FIRST SUPERSEDING INDICTMENT

THE GRAND JURY CHARGES THAT:

COMMON ALLEGATIONS

- 1. Defendant Umar Farouk Abdulmutallab is a Nigerian national. In August 2009, defendant Abdulmutallab traveled to Yemen for the purpose of becoming involved in violent "jihad" on behalf of Al Qaeda. Al Qaeda is a designated terrorist organization, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §§ 2339B(a)(1) and 8 U.S.C. § 1189(a).
- 2. In preparation for a suicide attack, defendant Abdulmutallab practiced detonating explosive devices similar to one which he later received for an attack on a U.S. airliner.
- 3. Subsequently, defendant Abdulmutallab received a bomb (hereinafter, "the Bomb") for his mission. The Bomb contained Pentaerythritol Tetranitrate (also known as "PETN") and Triacetone Triperoxide (also known as "TATP"), each of which is a high explosive, and each of which is thus an "explosive" within the meaning of section 921(a)(4) of Title 18, United States Code. The Bomb was concealed inside a pair of underwear, which allowed defendant Abdulmutallab to wear it while traveling. The Bomb was designed to allow defendant Abdulmutallab to detonate it at a time of his choosing, and to thereby cause an explosion onboard an airliner. The Bomb constituted a "destructive device" within the meaning of section 921(a)(4) of Title 18, United States Code, that is, a bomb containing an explosive; the Bomb also constituted a "weapon of mass destruction" within the meaning of Section 2332a(c)(2)(A) of Title 18, United States Code, that is, a destructive device; and the Bomb also constituted a "firearm" within the meaning of Section 921(a)(3) of Title 18, United States Code, that is, a destructive device.

- 4. After he received the Bomb, defendant Abdulmutallab maintained possession of it by wearing the underwear in which it was concealed in various countries in the Middle East, Africa and Europe, as he traveled as part of an eventual trip to the United States.
- 5. On December 25, 2009, defendant Abdulmutallab boarded Northwest flight 253 (hereinafter "Flight 253"), in Amsterdam, the Netherlands. At all times material to this Indictment, Northwest Airlines was a subsidiary of Delta Airlines, a United States commercial airline. Delta Airlines operated flights under both the Delta and Northwest Airlines names.
- 6. Defendant Abdulmutallab boarded Flight 253 wearing the Bomb concealed in his underwear. Defendant Abdulmutallab's purpose in taking the Bomb on board Flight 253 was to detonate it during flight, causing the plane to crash and thereby kill all passengers on board, as he had been directed.
  - 7. Flight 253 departed Amsterdam, the Netherlands, on December 25, 2009, flying non-stop to Detroit Metropolitan Airport, Romulus, Michigan, carrying 281 passengers and 11 crew members. The passengers and crew of Flight 253 included nationals of the United States as well as nationals of other nations. At all times material to this Indictment, Flight 253 was in the "special aircraft jurisdiction of the United States" within the meaning of section 46501(2)(A) of Title 49, United States Code, that is, it was a civil aircraft of the United States in flight. The aircraft constituting Flight 253 was a "facility of interstate and foreign commerce," within the meaning of Section 2332a(a)(2)(A) of Title 18, United States Code.

- 8. Shortly before landing, defendant Abdulmutallab went to the bathroom and upon returning to his seat, stated that his stomach was upset and then pulled a blanket over himself. As the aircraft continued its descent, and in airspace over the United States and the Eastern District of Michigan (a position northeast of Woodhaven, Michigan), defendant Abdulmutallab detonated the Bomb, which resulted in a fire. Defendant Abdulmutallab was subdued and restrained by passengers and flight crew. The aircraft landed at Detroit Metropolitan Airport shortly thereafter.
  - 9. Venue is proper in the Eastern District of Michigan.
