nigga your messages always give me a laugh! yeah, the porn vid's aint ready yet. I just got back home. I met with Kman and he said that the porn had faces of people that they did not want to show in public right now. I think maybe if we can edit the video and block out some of the stuff then maybe Kman and the other bros will agree to send the videos over. You talk to Kman, and tell him that i can fix up the video's if you want. I gave Kman the money, and the medical kit, and your notes. I also talked to him about the computer stuff, communicating safely, so i will try to setup something soon for all the bros so we can have a better way of staying in contact.

Kash is doing good, i gave him his money also, and the two phone cards with the numbers and explained the costs of using them in the mobile. We went to the village, but none of the niggaz are there right now. Imzy went for medical treatment to Pindi i think with the doctor. the place looked good. Kash cleared up the trouble with with nigga and things are good now with all the people.

Bro, we still don't have my house being used. Its still empty, so do you know any bros from UK that wanna go to PK anytime soon so we can put them up there. I need a solution for this bro, so try and ask around the bros if anyone wants to head for PK they can live there.

also bro, I will start on the remote devices thing right away, and will let u know once we have it ready for testing. and, i find some of the things for testing, Urea, nitro phosphate, anything else we need?

bro i think Kman said they needed night vision goggles, and that stuff here is cheaper, so if u want we can try to get some for the bros from here at the cost of maybe 100 UK? i can look into it.

anything else bro that we need to do, or any help needed with anything?

also bro, when i was in PK me and kash talked about immy, wats he gonna do there? we have a suggestion, to use the bro for a one-way operation to the most high. maybe in Yahoodi land. what do you think?
